Reflections on the Summer in Argentina program

“I feel so lucky to have been a part of Tulane’s summer abroad in Argentina. Professor Gomez was the perfect guide, as he is an interesting and relatable teacher who is very familiar with Argentine culture. I had a great host family that helped me become much more comfortable in my Spanish speaking abilities. The program allows for a good balance of work and play. In class, we learned about the cultural, political, and economic history of Buenos Aires, which we saw come to life as we toured the city outside of class. Buenos Aires lends itself to cultural experiences, as it is filled with parks, museums, bars, restaurants, and night clubs. One weekend, we traveled as group to Mendoza, and got a taste of Argentina's famous wine country. After the program ended, I went to Iguazú and saw some of the world’s most magnificent waterfalls!

Every single day held a new adventure and new opportunities to learn about the language, history, architecture, and social structure of Buenos Aires and Argentina. The weather was mild and the people were helpful, kind, outgoing, spirited, and most of all, proud of their culture. I highly recommend this program. Te quiero, Argentina!”
