

Cultures in Connection: Louisiana, Latin America, and the Middle East

A K-12 Teacher Workshop

Saturday, October 12th

9:00 AM - 4:00 PM

Greenleaf Conference Room, 100 Jones Hall
Tulane University, New Orleans, LA

This K-12 teacher workshop focuses on the diverse Middle Eastern, North African, European, Caribbean, and Latin American cultural traits that permeate everyday life here in Louisiana and in the southern United States in general. This workshop is a one-of-a kind chance to study the Middle East and Latin America in comparison, drawing on a pool of nationally known scholars and local experts, and using New Orleans as a starting point. You'll leave with ideas on how to infuse your curriculum with a global approach and a list of resources to use in your classroom. Workshop attendees will also get access to the Middle East Studies Association annual conference Film Fest and book room. Registration is $25, but there is a $10 discount for registrations before September 30th.

Register online by visiting the Latin American Resource Center website: <stonecenter.tulane.edu>.

Sponsored by the Stone Center for Latin American Studies, the World Affairs Council of New Orleans, and the Middle East Outreach Council in conjunction with the Middle East Studies Association Annual Meeting 2013.

For more information contact <crcrts@tulane.edu>